Football is a passion everywhere in the world. It doesn't matter your nationality, your color, your religion, your political party, your gender, your looks. What really matter is the passion for the game.

To celebrate this passion in the same year of the 2018 Russia World Cup, 32 top graphic designers - one from each of the 32 participating countries - were kindly invited to join this project.

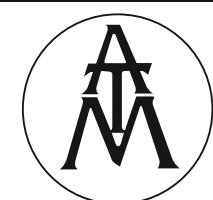

The aim of this project is to recognize the universal knowledge of the force of football - the game, the passion, the feeling, the strength and the energy. With this on their mind, each one of these designers designed an original poster for the joy of football.

The collection of these 32 posters will be presented in June - July 2018 in exhibitions all around the world, in Russia and the other 31 countries, as well as in countries that did not classified for the World Cup.

We hope you enjoy this great collection of posters and we thank all the invited designers for their enthusiasm and creativity, as well as the supporters and friends who helped us making this project a reality.
